Commuting Companion

Love coffee? If you can't start the day without your morning caffeine rush, you shouldn't live without this travel mug from Contingo. The sleek, self-sealing mug has become my must-have commuting companion after I grabbed it off the giveaway table at work. Who on earth would give away such a gem?

The new Elle model with AutoSeal, keeps my coffee piping-hot until lunchtime and is comfortable to hold while running around. Best of all, it never, ever spills or leaks thanks to a button that seals the drinking hole when I'm not sipping – no thinking necessary.

Listen, if I can enjoy my hot coffee while navigating the Manhattan rush hour, surely this mug is a keeper.
