

Testing 1, 2, 3: Contigo Autoseal Travel Mug

Posted: Sept. 28, 2007

The claim: "The Contigo is the first travel mug that automatically seals between sips and is the only travel mug you cannot spill. Autoseal technology can be used with one hand using the trigger button; push the button to drink and release it to seal automatically."

The cost: $14.99 to $19.99 (depending on size and style)

The verdict: This sturdy stainless steel travel mug is vacuum-insulated, with a screw-on plastic lid that is designed to remain closed until you press the button, allowing you to sip your hot beverage.

Where to find it: Target stores and www.target.com

- Jan Uebelherr

Testing 1, 2, 3

